STORM KILLS TWO IN LOUISIANA

BARROW, DILLINGER AND PALS SUSPECTED IN BANK ROBBERIES

OKLAHOMA, ILLINOIS AND KANSAS BANKS BANDIT VICTIMS THURSDAY

EDWARDSVILLE, Kans., April 19. (AP)—Two men and a woman robbed the Edwardsville State bank here of $1,480 early today and escaped in a (Ford V-8) sedan answering the general description of the car used by Clyde Barrow, Southwestern bandit, and his companion, Bonnie Parker.

K. H. Beach, vice president of the bank, and Arthur Knight, 22, a laborer who was working in the rear of the bank were kidnaped by the bandits and taken to Monticello, Kas., where they wer released.

As Beach entered the bank about 5 a.m. to work on the books, he was struck over the head by one of the bandits.

In a somewhat dazed condition the bank official was forced to lie on the floor until 8:30 a.m. when the time lock was released on the bank vault. At that hour the two men compelled Beach to open the vault, and they removed all the money in sight.

One of the bandits left the bank when the vault had been opened and returned with a car. As the robbers left the bak they encountered Knight and forced him into the waiting machine.

Seated in the car Beach said, was a young woman dressed in black with a fur-piece about her neck.

Officers here believed that the bandits as described by Beach and Knight answered the descriptions of Barrow, Bonnie Parker and either Henry Methvin, or Rayman Hamilton.

INSULL BUSY WITH WRITING AT PALERMO REBUFFS REPORTERS

FORMER UTILITIES MAGNATE NOT ALLOWED GO ASHORE IN SICILY

ABOARD THE S. S. EXILONA, AT PALERMO, SICILY, April 19.—(AP)—Samuel Insull busied himself with his pen today.

The aged captive, America-bound to face trial for the failure of his utilities enterprises, spent an hour in his cabin writing letters before the Exilona docked at Palermo at 8:30 a. m., after a short trip from Milazzo.

Insull is not allowed to leave ship, but fellow passengers took his mail ashore.

Several Italian journalists boarded the Exilona and one and all met with stern rebuffs when they sought to interview the Chicagoan.

The Exilona was scheduled to depart late this afternoon for Casablanca, expecting to arrive there within four or five days.

JAP PROTECTORATE OVER CHINA SEEN IN TOKYO STATEMENT

POLICY OUTLINE BELIEVED AIMED DIRECTLY AT UNITED STATES

SHANGHAI, April 19.—(AP)—Japan's restatement of policy toward China is seen here, in part, as a direct blow at the activities of American aircraft manufacturers.

In the draft, announced by the Tokyo foreign office, Japan states that she objects to other nations supplying China with military airplanes and instructors.

Many Chinese also envisage a Nipponese protectorate over China on a basis of Japan's announcement that she considers herself solely responsible for maintaining the peace of East Asia.

Officials withheld comment. Under government censorship, newspapers were forbidden to discuss the draft, but well-informed quarters talked of little else.

Many American aircraft manufacturers have fliers in China now, selling planes to the national government. Also there are a number of American aeronautical instructors in the national government's aviation school at Hangchow.

John H. Jouett, formerly a colonel in the United States army air service, is directing the Hangchow instructors, 20 in all—including pilots, mechanics and doctors.

VOLIVIA DECLARES HIMSELF TWO-GUN MAN TO FOLLOWERS

THREATENS DEATH TO OPPONENTS WHO GAIN VICTORY IN SCHOOL FIGHT

ZION, Ill., April 19.—(AP)—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, proclaiming himself a two-gun man from away back, buckled on his shooting irons today and thundered defiance to his foes.

To 2,000 persons who crowded Shiloh Tabernacle last night, the overseer of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church—who still contends that the world is flat—said:

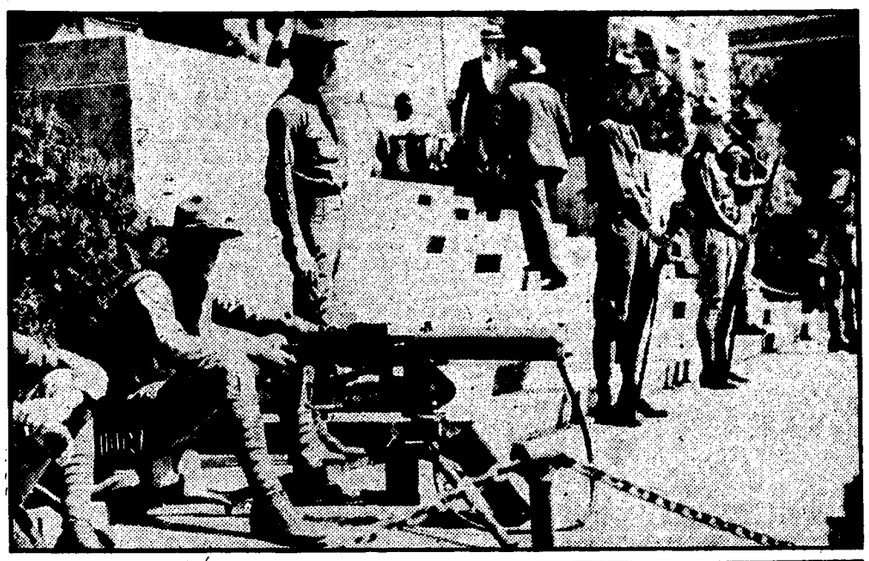

"You people had better watch out for me. Once in Melbourne, Australia, a real mob of 150 men surrounded me and threatened to kill me, but I walked out unharmed.

"Twenty-five years ago, right here in Zion, we had some real fights. It was nothing to have a dozen shot in a night. Those were the grand old days. I wish we had the same kind of men to fight against now.

"I was brought up as a gunman. When I was a boy I used to carry two guns. I am heavily armed now, and I'll kill a man at

TROOPS GUARDING ALABAMA FIELDS TO PREVENT DISORDER

COAL MINE AREAS CLOSELY WATCHED FOR NEW DEADLY OUTBREAKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 19.—(AP)—Troops guarded against further bloodshed today in the strike-torn Alabama coal fields.

Reports of "all quiet" came from the Jefferson county area, where a negro picket was killed and a white miner younded yesterday, but civil and military authorities feared additional outbreaks.

Steel helmeted national guardsmen kept watch in one mining camp in the Dogena section, where negro pickets, armed with clubs, were reported to have halted cars.

Other guardsmen, ready to dash to the scene of any sign of disorder, remained under arms at the Birmingham armory.

With 21,000 miners already idle, the possible paralysis of almost all industrial activity added to the tension.

Strikes Saturday and Monday at the captive mines of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, precipitated the present situation.

Alabama operators said that increased cost of dreduction made competition impossible under the bituminous coal code amendments which wiped out the wage scale differential between northern and southern fields March 31.

Observance of San Jacinto Day Urged Saturday

AUSTIN, April 19.—(AP)—Observance of the 98th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, by which Texas gained her independence from Mexico, was urged today by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson in proclaiming April 21 "San Jacinto Day."

"As the years go by the citizens of Texas appreciate more fully the debt we owe to the brave and fearless men who made it possible for us to enjoy the blessings of freedom," she said.

Celebrations by schools and organizations should be of "such nature that this outstanding occasion in Texas history be indelibly impressed upon the minds and hearts of our people."

ROOSEVELT READY TALK DEBT PAYMENT BUT NO HOPE SEEN

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN BRITAIN NOT CONDUCIVE TO SUCCESSFUL PARLEY

By WILLIAM L. BEALE

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is as ready as ever to renew war debt discussions with Great Britain, but a view today from an official quarter held little hope for such a parley or any immediate successful settlement.

Authorities here noted a demand in London for writing down Britain's debt, made by Sir Herbert Samuel, liberal leader, during a debate in the house of commons on the new budget. For the third successive year it omits any provision for debt payment.

It can be stated that Mr. Roosevelt has not altered his policy "that a debtor may at any time approach a creditor with representations concerning the debt and ask for readjustment."

Many here feel, however that additional debt talks at present would be untimely.

Mr. Roosevelt himself announced the adjournment of last fall's extended debt meetings in Washington "until certain factors in the world situation—commercial

SUITCASE FOUND NEAR PORT ARTHUR STARTS NEW HUNT

BAG CONTAINING RECEIPT TO SISTER OF RAYMOND HAMILTON IS IMPETUS

PORT ARTHUR, April 19—(AP)—The finding of a suitcase containing a purse lettered with the name of [illegible]rey Hamilton" started officers in this section searching today for Raymond Hamilton, escaped convict and bank robber.

The outlaw has a sister living in Dallas, 13 or 14 years old, named Audrey.

The suitcase was found by a Port Arthur man near the Dryden ferry, north of Port Arthur, and was turned over to Chief of Police H. F. Baker. It contained a receipt from a Dallas photographer issued to Audrey Hamilton.

The suitcase also contained woman's clothing and apparel for a baby, as well as a few pieces of men's clothing.

Local officers were skeptical over the suitcase having been lost by Hamilton but were checking up nevertheless. Hamilton was in New Orleans recently in company with a woman about 30 years old. From there he was traced to Chicago and the trail lost.

Machine rifles belonging to the Beaumont national guard unit were issued to officers there.

LEXINGTON COMES FORWARD WITH NEW SHOT AT CONGRESS

PETITION PROTESTS FEDERAL INTERFERENCE UNDER RECOVERY GUISE

LEXINGTON, Mass., April 19.—(AP)—From Lexington, where "the shot that was heard around the world" was fired 159 years ago another shot was fired today—this time at congress.

A protest, signed by more than 1,200 citizens of Lexington and addressed to Massachusetts members of congress, was carried to Washington criticizing, among other things:

"Federal interference in business under the guise of promoting social reform and economic recovery..."

"Indefinite extension of legislation originally designed solely for emergency purpose;..." and "passage of legislation without more careful consideration by congress."

A reading of the petition also was part of the exercises on the Battle Green in observance of the 159th anniversary of the skirmish April 19, 1775, between the Minute Men and the British.

Drawn in the form used by Lexington citizens in Colonial days, to protest to provincial and state authorities, the "declaration concluded":

"We are resolved that the individual's rights of private enterprise and its rewards must continue, free from unreasonable interference by the federal government, and we demand their preservation at your hands."

Texans Reached New York Today On Special Train

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—A delegation of Texans who are "selling" the Lone Star State to the nation arrived in New York today on a special train.

They were met at the station by representatives of the Merchants' Association of New York and have planned a day of sightseeing tours for the visitors.

In the delegation were 84 newspapermen and many Texas business executives, among them Lowry Martin, publisher of the Corsicana Daily Sun and chairman of the group; Malcolm Crim, mayor of Kilgore; Walter Cline, cattle man and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Joseph Leonard, publisher of the Gainesville Register.

The Texans' visit here concludes a tour that has taken them to several principal cities — Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Baltimore, Washington, and Philadelphia.

As E. Paul Jones, spokesman for the visitors, expressed it, the tour is a pilgrimage to "sell" Texas and the new deal to the citizens. Conditions are good and getting better in the Lone Star State, he said.

The group will split up after today, members planning to return to their home state individually or in small parties.

BRITISH LEADERS SEEKING STAVE OFF FEARED ARMS RACE

CLAIM GERMAN ARMAMENT PRECLUDE HOPE BILATERAL NEGOTIATIONS

LONDON, April 19.—(AP)—The opinion that the Italian plan now is the only remaining hope for European disarmament was expressed widely in unofficial quarters today following publication of an uncompromising note from France on the subject.

Official quarters, however, said that no communication was planned with Premier Mussolini, originator of the Italian plan, on the subject.

(The Italian plan was communicated by Premier Mussolini to Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, Jan. 4, and suggested a partial rearming of Germany, re-formation of the League of Nations, and supervision of the armaments of other powers.)

LONDON, April 19.—(AP)—Fighting to stave off a feared race among the nations to rearm, British leaders began today a renewed struggle for some basis of agreement.

They were spurred by the French contention, stated in a note to London, that Germany's increased defense appropriations have smashed all hope of disarmament through bilateral negotiations.

Authoritative sources said Britain is determined to continue efforts to obtain at least a limited

WIDE AREA SWEPT BY WIND AND RAIN THURSDAY MORNING

STORM MOVED FROM TEXAS COAST WHERE HEAVY DAMAGE REPORTED

LAFAYETTE, La., April 19.—(AP)—At least two persons were killed and others injured in this area today in a wind and rain storm which swept through south and south-central Louisiana. The disturbance covered a wide area, causing extensive property damage.

The dead:

OPHE MELANCON, killed at Carencro, LaFayette Parish, when the wind wrecked his home.

MRS. CLIMINE TAYLOR, 52, killed at Arnaudville, St. Landry Parish, when her home collapsed.

A negro man was reported to have been struck by lightning and fatally injured near Eunice, in St. Landry Parish, as he was riding through the storm on a truck with a number of others.

Two persons, Mrs. Moise Hebert and Walter Taylor, were hurt at Arnaudville.

Crowley reported an unidentified woman had suffered a broken shoulder in the cave-in of a house at Cassinade and an unidentified child hurt at Premeauxville, south of Crowley.

Two persons, Mrs. Moise Hebert and Walter Taylor, were listed as injured at Arnaudville.

Preliminary checks in the parish indicated extensive property damage.

A residence here was crushed by a falling oak tree but the only occupant, a negro servant, escaped injury. The tile roof of another home was blown off and trees were uprooted over the city.

PRESIDENT SPENDS DAY ON MAJOR ITEMS DEVELOPING PROGRAM

'MOONSHINE BUSINESS' BAD; SILVER AND COAL HOLD PROMINENT PLACES

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt spent today on major uncertainties that dot the developing administration program.

The bright glint of silver and the dark gleam of coal were prominent in white house reckonings, while the sugar control bill kept the senate embroiled and the house marked time on local legislation.

Put off until tomorrow was the presidential conference expected to result in alteration of the Wagner measure against employer-directed company unions.

Proponents of silver legislation, led by Senator King (D-Utah), got first call for their attempt to shift the Roosevelt viewpoint in their direction.

ANNIVERSARY OF HISTORIC BATTLES OF LEXINGTON AND CONCORD OBSERVED THURSDAY

By JOHN B. KNOX
Associated Press Staff Writer.

BOSTON, April 19. —(AP)— The rattle of musketry that shattered the silence of a warm spring morning in Massachusetts 159 years ago and roused a nation to revolution re-echoed today in celebration of the historic battles of Lexington and Concord.

In old cemeteries along the trail leading from Boston to Concord above greening mounds and weathering slate headstones, flags fluttered. Here, sleeping through the long years, lie the mortal remains of the men who laid down their lives in defense of human rights and democracy on that far-away spring morning.

Called from their beds at dead of night by clattering hoofs and cries of speeding riders warning of the British expedition to destroy the colonists' meager military stores, they left home and family to die, a few hours later, before the volleying muskets of the troops of the king.

Besides the graves of these heroes are those of companions who lived to fight under Washington through the revolution that followed Lexington and Concord.

To all these, Massachusetts paid tribute.

In a daylight re-enactment of the famous rides of Paul Revere and William Dawes, Jr., 20th Century riders today clattered out of Boston into the rolling Middlesex countryside. Along the routes, and along the line of the British advance—and retreat—were parades and celebrations. Many communities not on the actual line of march shared in these observances.

SUBMARINES ENTER IN CANAL DEFENSE MANEUVERS OF NAVY

BATTLE PROBLEMS WILL CULMINATE WITH ARMY-NAVY WORK SATURDAY

WITH THE U. S. FLEET, OFF WEST COAST OF CENTRAL AMERICA, April 19.—(AP)—Powerful submarines moved northward from the Bay of Panama today to defend the canal zone against a "hostile" fleet.

Steaming southward to encounter these undersea cruisers was the armada of the United States fleet, greater in strength than any fleet that ever engaged in naval battle.

Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves, on the flag bridge of the dreadnaught California, was in command of the attacking force of nearly four score fighting ships, dreadnaughts, aircraft carriers, cruisers destroyers and auxiliaries.

Somewhere at secret disposition was the mightest submarine force ever engaged in such a problem, together with the newest and fastest of American scout cruisers, under command of Vice Admiral Frank Hardeman Brumby, on the U. S. S. Indianapolis, with

Claimed Textile Industry In Best Condition Years

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 19.—(AP)—George A. Sloan, of New York, president of the Cotton Textile institute, told the annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers association here today that the textile industry was in a better position now than at any corresponding period in the last six years and advocated that it continue self-government with federal supervision.

Sloan, who is also chairman of the Cotton Textile code authority, said the non-compliance of the code "has been a rare exception."

He said: "While substantial price increases have occurred, we have been able to demonstrate under inquiry that they no more than reflect the additional costs of making effective the NRA program of rehabilitation plus the processing tax which has amounted to approximately $79,000,000 during the past eight months."

NAVARRO COUNTY FARMERS TO RECEIVE OVER HALF MILLION FOR RETIRING COTTON ACRES

Navarro county farmers are scheduled to receive in excess of a half million dollars on their 1934 cotton crops without having to turn a hand or put a single seed in the ground according to the final figures on the current acreage reduction campaign which will be forwarded Thursday to the state board of review at College Station for final approval.

After several days of intensive work in making the necessary eight per cent blanket reduction on the production over the base period, county committeemen reported Thursday that the revised contracts would be forwarded at once meeting all of the requirements set out by the board on its first review of the figures for Navarro county.

According to the state board, the Navarro county lint production allotment is 42,392,000 pounds and this was the figure to which productions figures had to be trimmed. The amount of lint production on the retired acreage is 14,892,000, and will yield to the producers of this district the sum of $521,220 in two equal payments before the harvest season.

In addition a parity payment of a minimum of one per cent per pound for forty per cent of the lint production of the county, the domestic allotment, will be made late in 1934 or early in 1935, and will bring in the sum of $169,588, making a grand total of $690,808. In some reliable quarters there is a belief that the parity payment will considerably exceed the one cent per pound basis.

These payments will all be in addition to the amount to be received from the harvesting of the 1934 crop which is expected to bring considerably more than the average price for the past two or three years.

Members of the central county committee have expresses high commendation for the manner in which the 4,000 producers in this county had accepted the latest revisions demanded by the state board of review. The contracts in this county, including those whose yield is too low to qualify for the payments but have signed agreement to participate as far as possible, will cover approximately 102,000 acres.

BISHOP CANNON IS WITNESS THURSDAY IN OWN DEFENSE

WELL STUFFED ENVELOPE AND SHEAF OF PAPERS CARRIED TO STAND

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., testified today to a District of Columbia jury in an effort to prove that he is innocent of a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal corrupt practices act in connection with his 1928 efforts to defeat Alfred E. Smith for president.

The 69-year-old bishop, who four years ago walked out on a senate committee seeking to investigate his political activities took the witness stand with a well-stuffed envelope and a sheaf of papers in his hand.

He is on trial with Miss Ada L. Burroughs, the treasurer of an anti-saloon committee in Virginia which the Southern Methodist churchman headed.

With his hand on a Bible as he stood at the edge of the stand, Cannon was sworn in.

"I was born in the state of Maryland, but went to the state of Virginia when I was 16 years of age and have lived in that state practically ever since, until I was elected bishop," the witness said.

FIRST BIRTHDAY NEW DOLLAR FINDS CHIEF INTEREST AHEAD VALUE ON SECOND ANNIVERSARY

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Pres.)

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—On this first birthday of the new dollar, the world of finance is chiefly interested in what this dollar is going to look like on its second birthday.

The monetary doctors widely agree that the dollar will not buy as much a year from now, as it will today. Whether it will contain less gold, or even some silver, remains moot questions.

The dollar informally left the gold standard March 4, 1933, when the federal reserve banks ceased redeeming paper currency with gold. But it was April 19, a year ago, that Former Treasury Secretary Woodin formally announced the dollar was no longer a gold dollar but a managed dollar.

Our monetary unit now finds itself on a modified gold bullion standard—"1934 model," according to Secretary Morgenthau—and stripped from 25.8 grains of gold, nine-tenths fine, to 15 5-21 grains.

Other Changes Possible.

Under legislation enacted last May, and last January, the President may increase the amount of gold in the dollar a trifle, that is, to 15.48 grains, and may decrease it substantially, in fact to as little at 12.9 grains.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau have made it clear that they wish to continue with the present dollar of 15 5-21 grains, for the time being.

In the meantime, the silver bloc

THREE WOUNDED BY HIGHWAY POLICEMAN BOSTON POST ROAD

MAN IN BACK SEAT APPARENTLY PRISONER; MADE ESCAPE IN AUTO

WESTON, Mass., April 19.—(AP)—Three men in a car bearing Illinois registration plates were wounded today during a pistol duel with a motorcycle officer who halted them on the Boston Post road near the Weston-Natick line. The three limped into the automobile, from which they had alighted, and escaped.

Motorcycle Officer Alfred Raynor of the Weston police who halted the machine, said there were six persons in the car. He said that one had a towel wrapped around his head and his hands were manacled.

Raynor was patrolling the state highway near the Natick line when the sedan roared past him. He started in pursuit, caught up with the machine after a mile chase and ordered the driver to halt.

Three men stepped from the car and began firing pistols as Raynor swung his leg over his cycle, preparatory to standing it against a tree. The officer, who was about ten feet in front of the of the Japanese, China is buying military aircraft in increasing numbers. Indications are that a fleet of bombers may be purchased soon.

JAPAN

Statement Looms As New Far East Issue

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—Japan's "re-statement and clarification of policy toward China—in its incomplete form as contained in press dispatches from Tokyo—loomed today as a possible major issue in Far Eastern affairs.

No official communication of the text of the purported document has been received at the state department, either through Ambassador Saito or from Ambassador Grew in Tokio. Pending the actual receipt and consideration of a note, or an aide memoir with full text, state department and other administration officials declined to make any official comment on the document itself, or any of the outstanding points in Japan's claim of a special responsibility and sphere of influence in China.

Famous 21 Demands.

Unofficial and well informed observers of Far Eastern affairs, however—on this basis of press dispatches—expressed the opinion that "the new China policy" contained the potentialities of becoming a restatement, on a greatly enlarged field, of Japan's famous "21 demands on China."

If the document is transmitted to Washington and other world capitals as an official Japanese communication, and the text is as purported in dispatches, it would mean—observers said—the beginning of a new and highly important exchange of diplomatic notes with far reaching effects on the foreign policies of the world powers.

The "21 demands," designed to clarify all outstanding questions between China and Japan—and considered by foreign nations as a statement of Japan's "Asiatic Monroe Doctrine" of economic exploitation, territorial expansion, political control, and paramount influence—were secretly presented to President Yuan of China January 18, 1915, while the rest of the world was at war.

China defied Japan despite an ultimatum and on March 13 the United States in a memorandum delivered to the Japanese embassy reviewed American policy in the Far East and insisted that American treaty rights in China must be respected.

The United States later made plain that it strongly objected to the granting of special privileges to China to any nation.

British Government Wants Clarification

LONDON, April 19.—(AP)—The British government today received an informative cable from its ambassador to Tokyo concerning Japan's warning to other countries against projects for the assistance of China.

Contents of the message were not disclosed except that it confirmed the gist of press reports of the Japanese declaration.

The unusual form in which the declaration was made and the fact that Japan reserves the sole right to decide whether projects aiding China are peaceful or otherwise, it is understood, is most disturbing to the British government.

British official circles said they regarded as unwarranted alleged Japanese fears that the United States, Great Britain, or other powers would seize upon special influence in China.

A Japanese ban on international aid to China, it was held would be a direct violation of the nine-power treaty and other agreements to which Japan has adhered.

The nine-power treaty, it was pointed out, allows the powers "to provide the fullest opportunity to China to develop herself" and "to use their influence for equal opportunity for commerce" in China, but bars them from making any special privileges.

It was also pointed out that Japan agreed to collaborate in any financing in China with Great Britain, the United States and France under the 1920 bankers consortium.

Furthermore, experts of the league of nations have been invited to assist in the reconstruction of China since the creation of the Chinese National economic council in 1931. It was indicated that any move by Japan to curb these activities would be opposed by Great Britain.

WAR DEBTS

and monetary—become more clarified." More than one official feels this time is not yet.

Prepares Debt Message.

The chief executive now has under consideration a message to congress on the war debt situation. It is generally expected that he will confine himself to a factual report on the existing status.

Most leaders on Capitol Hill are waiting for Mr. Roosevelt to speak before talking further themselves. An indication of the tenor, however, is contained in a clause approved by the house in passing the reciprocal tariff bill that nothing in it should be interpreted as giving the executive power to cancel debts in negotiating the trade agreements.

In less than two months—June 15—debt installments totaling $174,647,000 are due. Great Britain owes $85,670,765 of this total. Treasury officals feel certain of collecting only about one thousandth of the full sum due from all debtors.

Finland Maintains Record.

Finland's June 15 installment is $166,538. Finland is the only debtor nation which has paid in full every time and officials look for her to repeat.

That leaves $174,480,000 in the doubtful category. Responsible authorities expect at best only a few million in token payments.

Total foreign debt collections in the fiscal year 1933 were $110,000,000. So far in the 1934 fiscal period they have come to about $9,000,000.

The funded foreign debt totals $12,352,905,000. The unfunded debt includes Russia's $337,223,000, Armenia's $20,313,000 and $416,550 due from Nicaragua.

NEW DOLLAR

in Congress is agitating for greater monetary use of silver. The administratino has been cool to most of the silver proposals, and usually well-informed quarters assert that any mandatory silver legislation of extreme monetary moment would be vetoed.

So, barring unexpected devolopments in silver, the future of the dollar is widely expected to depend largely upon whether the President decides to cut the gold content further, and upon the adjustment of the general price level to the reduction in the gold content of the currency already executed.

Purchasing Power Holds.

Although the dollar's gold content has been cut nearly 41 per cent, the currency has as yet no such shrinkage in purchasing power. The bureau of labor index of commodity prices for March shows a gain of only 22 1-2 per cent over a year earlier.

But this is probably substantially larger than the real increase in the cost of living to date, since rising prices percolate but slowly into such relatively fixed but important items as rents, medical costs, and insurance. As a mnter of fact, the National Industrial conference board's index for the cost of living, from March, 1933 to March 1934, shows an increase of only 9.3 per cent.

And even though the gold content of the dollar be not further reduced, many economists agree, although opinion is far from unanimous, that general price levels, over a period of a few years, will adjust themselves to the new value of gold. So is this is true, the present gold bullion dollar would show a substantial decrease in purchasing power, probably by next April 19, regardless of whether it is diluted with silver, or stripped of more gold.

As a matter of fact, more sensitive speculative commodities have already jumped comparably to the drop in the gold content. Moody's daily index of 15 sensitive commodities is up just about 41 per cent from a year ago, while the gold content of the dollar is down roughly the same amount. As time goes on, according to proponents of the gold theory, the boost in prices to compensate for the lower value of the dollar should trickle through most of the economic structure.

DISARMAMENT

arms convention.

Amid these moves, the London press, in a pessimistic vein, topped accounts of the French note with such headlines as:

"Grave Disarmament Crisis," "Direct Arms Talks Killed," "Disarmament Deadlock" and "France Blames Germany."

The Morning Post said the French memorandum is a "waft of refreshing candour, loosed into the sultry, suffocating atmosphere of make-believe" and ends once and for all the hollow pretense that disarmament is either safe or possible under existing conditions.

French Position Revealed.

The definite French position was revealed in a British government "whitepaper" which told in 7,000 words the story of how European nations have sought to reach a basis for an arms accord.

The paper was released after London had received in the note from Paris a demand that a full disarmament conference resume discussions where they were dropped last fall.

Delegates to the conference left Geneva, after the withdrawal of Germany from both the parley and the League of Nations, hoping to find agreement through diplomatic erchanges.

The British, seeking not only to reach some bilateral agreement with France but also to get the French and Germans together, never have agreed with France's contention that Germany is violating arms provisions of the Versailles treaty; nor is London ready to agree that increases in the German military budget are proof that the reich is rearming illegally.

Germany has expressed a willingness to agree to supervision of arms, provided any regulations drawn are made to apply equally to all nations.

Seek English Alliance.

PARIS, April 19.—(AP)—France again is seeking a military alliance with England to prevent a threatened disastrous European arms race.

"Faced with German admissions that they are rearming in defiance of the world," a high official said today, "France is unable to tie her hands unless she is assured Great Britain would be on her side in case she were attacked."

Foreign Minister Louis Bathou has been instructed to strengthen the little entente and Polish alliances and do everything possible to halt an arms race which the weak budget would be unable to support.

WILL GIVE TWIN PARACHUTE DROP AIRPORT SUNDAY

Almeda Babcock, pretty 24-year-old parachute jumper, will do a twin-parachute drop Sunday afternoon at the airport, which is now under the management of H. James Cole. No admission will be charged, and the public is cordially invited to be guests of the management during the afternoon. Several visiting planes will be here, and a Ford tri-motored plane, piloted by George Burrell, will be christened as "Miss Corsicana."

The afternoon's maneuvers are being given by the new management to stimulate interest here again in aviation.

Mrs. Babcock has made over 250 twin-chute drops, in the leading cities of the United States and Central America, and the popular acclaim which she received is evidenced by the large scrapbook, which her manager was showing here Thursday. The book is full of action and posed photographs, and articles from the larger metropolitan dailies, written by their aviation editors. She has made many exhibition drops in air-shows, airport openings, and the annual races. She is the widow of George Babcock, who was present at the opening of the Corsicana airport, and who was later killed in a five-chute drop. Mrs. Babcock will use here Sunday the parachute which failed to open, and which resulted in her husband's death.

The drop will be made from the Ford ship, piloted by Mr. Burrell. He is an experienced pilot, and is capable of stunting the tri-motored plane.

car, jumped over a low roadside stone wall and returned the fire.

With three shots, he wounded the three men—in one, two, three order. They limped to their machine and were pulled hastily into the rear seat. The car sped away before Raynor could get his motorcycle underway again.

State police were ordered out and a warning was broadcast to all police cruising cars.

State police believed the manacled man, whose head was wrapped in what appeared to be a towel, was either being kidnaped or taken for "a ride."

the drop of a hat in self defense. Countless guards, armed to the teeth, surround me. They have orders from me to shoot at a second's warning.

"Threats, veiled and otherwise, have been made against me. Let those who make them act, and I guarantee to kill any hundred persons. I've got enough guards to kill that many in a few seconds.

"I am a real, honest-to-goodness old warrior. What have I got against me? A lot of yellow curs."

Voliva's war cry was his answer to the dissension that has arisen since he threatened last Tuesday to "crack the town wide open" by closing the schools, after his candidates for the school board had been defeated.

His foes drew bloow yesterday when the public school was opened despite the overseer's edict. Onias W. Farley, who was elected president of the school board against Voliva's candidate, declared this was only the start of the drive to end domination of the city which Voliva has exercised since he took over the mantle of Alexander Dowie, first head of the church, two score years ago.

"The people of Zion are fed up with Voliva's dominance and insolence," said Farley.

immediate charge of a new effort to bring coal operators and miners on coal code adjustments. After digesting the voluminous testimony about conditions in both northern and southern fields, he was ready to go to the president with spokesmen for both sides.

Less urgent but nevertheless prime factors in the national and world situations made for busy scenes at executive departments at the capitol. Foreign disagreements on armament limitation brought from the state department the solitary comment that this country was prepared to join another general discussion a Geneva.

Morgenthau After Bootleggers.

Secretary Morganthau turned from financial duties long enough to tell reporters the moonshine and bootleg business "seems as bad as ever." He planned "to hit it hard," saying 73 stills were seized last week.

He and other treasury men read happy arguries in increasing loans and investments and deposits of federal reserve member banks, now back to the 1932 level.

The president also discussed general banking and financial questions with J. H. Perkins, chairman of the National City Bank, and W. W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase bank, New York, concerns.

Other news of the day was as contrasting. Postmaster General Farley, declining comment on the suit for damages from him personally because of the air mail contracts annullments, said the suing concerns will get contracts under the new bids if they "comply with the conditions laid down by the department."

The railroad wage controversy yet unsettled, special interest was attached to testimony to a senate committee by Joseph B. Eastman—ICC member who sought unsuccessfully to bring the managers and union men together. He said rail workers "must deal collectively rather than individually" in arbitrating disputes.

Blanton Blocks Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—Representative Blanton (D-Tex), today blocked house action on President Roosevelt's request for $405,000 to finance the federal government's participation at the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition.

"Let the people in Chicago stand on their own bottoms," shouted the Texan, when Representative Keller (D-Ill) brought up the bill authorizing the appropriation requested by President Roosevelt.

Railroad Employes Must Deal as Units

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—Joseph B. Eastman, transportation coordinator, told the senate interstate commerce committee today that railroad employes "must deal collectively rather than individually" in arbitration labor disputes.

Opposing amendments suggested by railway managers to the Dill bill to change the existing railroad labor act and set up mediation and national adjustment boards, Eastman said:

"Apparently it is the idea behind these railroad amendments that organizations representing the minority as well as the majority ought to be recognized."

Such a change, he added would lead to "all manner of confusion, controversy and internal strife among employes."

Eastham said if a majority of the employes wanted a company union "that ought to be the representative organization." He added he did not favor compelling the company to "deal along with a national union representing a minority, and the same principle would apply when the situation was reversed."

Would Permit States Tax National Banks

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—A bill to permit states to tax national banks was approved today by the house banking committee.

Meanwhile, Speaker Rainey told reporters that he personally favored the bill by Representative McLeod (R-Mich) to pay off depositors in closed banks but he doubted it would be passed this session.

President Roosevelt is opposed to the legislation.

The national bank taxing bill stipulates that the state levy must not be higher than that placed on the income or profits of a business institution in the state.

Chairman Steagall of Alabama, author of the measure, said passage would be sought this session.

AGREEMENT FOR INCREASE IN ARGENTINE WHEAT EXPORTS IS PLANNED AT ROME CONFERENCE

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, April 19.—(AP)—Delegates to the Rome parley of the world wheat advisory commission from the United States, Canada and Australia, formulated an agreement today for a suggested increase in the Argentine wheat export quota for 1933-34.

The draft will be submitted to the Argentine delegates for transmission to Buenos Aires.

In response to Argentina's request for an increase of 40,000,000 bushels, the tri-power post-conference agreement offers 30,000,000 bushels from this quota as a loan to be repaid by Argentina in one or two years by giving the trio part of her quotas.

There are several conditions attached to the offer.

First, that Argentina begin next year to reduce her wheat acreage; second, that Argentina agree to put in effect a minimum price agreement; third that Argentina agree to denaturize 10,000,000 bushels of wheat which she would be permitted to export outside the quota.

The 30,000,000-bushel loan would be divided as follows:

The United States, 12,000,000; Australia, 12,000,000, Canada 6,000,000.

The United States portion would be over 25 per cent of her whole quota, which is 47,000,000 bushels; but it is stated the United States would ship at least 10,000,000 less than the quota anyway.

Australia was offered a large share because her farmers are holding back wheat from the market in Australia and shipping under the quota which is 105,000,000 bushels.

The Canadian portion is small compared to the whole quota of 200,000,000 bushels because she has a greater necessity to dispose of her own wheat abroad.

There was no time for the delegates to discuss the Argentine supply, since they will leave tonight, after having remained over a day following the adjournment of the commission Wednesday night.

The matter will be postponed until the next meeting, which will be in London.

BANKS ROBBED

In recent raids by Barrow and his female companion the third member of the party is believed by officers to have been Methvin, an escaped convict from Huntsville prison in Texas.

PANA, Ill., April 19.—(AP)—Four men one of whom witnesses said resembled photographs of John Dillinger, escaped Indiana desperado, held up the Pana National bank today and escaped in an automobile with cash and securities estimated at $30,000.

Gus Smith, 60, bank janitor, was knocked unconscious and robbed of his keys. The robbers waited in the bank until the other employes arrived, forcing one of them to open the safe.

Ernest Butterfield, a jeweler next door, said one of the robbers resembled photographs of Dillinger.

The raid was executed with the daring and dispatch characteristic of the outlaw Dillinger, who has been suspected of replenishing his funds from bank vaults in a half dozen states since his remarkable walkout from the Crown Point, Ind., jail.

Last week the Warsaw, Ind., police arsenal was looted of rifles and pistols by a pair of desperadoes, and a night policeman swore Dillinger was one of them.

The last rumor of Dillingeristic engagements was a bank robbery at Shreveport, La., yesterday, in which it was thought he participated.

BETHANY, Okla., April 19.—(AP)—Three gunmen rifled the Farmers' State Bank of Bethany of $968 shortly after it opened today and escaped in the direction of Yukon.

A score of sheriff's cars and police machines from Oklahoma City blocked roads throughout the area.

President C. R. Wallace of the bank and two women employes, Mrs. Ruth Stockton and Annabelle Street, were placed in the vault as the trio fled, but the robbers did not lock it.

Wallace said he set off the alarm from behind the cage during the robbery, but before armed citizens reached the bank the robbers were off, first speeding in the direction of Oklahoma City and then doubling back at a point southeast of the town toward Yukon.

It was no new experience for Wallace, who said he was held up three times while in a bank at McComb, Ia.

Face Robbery Charges.

PERRY, Okla., April 19.—(AP)—Ernest Millsap, last of a trio arrested here a week ago as criminal suspects, was removed to Purcell today to face charges of robbing a store.

Dolph Tuck and R. G. Smiley, the two suspects, have been taken to Lonwview, Texas, to face robbery charges.

HAMILTON

Raymond Hamilton, split up, circulated here today in the form of a story naming Bonnie Parker, Barrow's woman companion, as the reason.

According to the version, Bonnie wanted an equal share in the loot from each bank robbery pulled by the Barrow gang. Hamilton, who reputedly engineered most of these hold-ups, objected and finally he and Barrow came to blows. And that, so they say, is why the two notorious outlaws went their separate ways.

The break, it was said, occurred after the gang had robbed the R. P. Henry and Sons private bank at Lancaster, Texas, of $4,138.50, and another bank robbery at Terre Haute, Ind., recently.

Hamilton also was said to have lost interest in Barrow because of the fact that Bonnie Parker became an associate of the desperado after her husband, Roy Thornton, was imprisoned. Hamilton and Thornton ran around together a few years ago. Thornton knew a lot about burning holes in bank vaults. They renewed their acquaintance in prison.

Hamilton was freed from Eastham state prison farm several weeks ago under cover of machine gun fire reputedly laid down by Barrow.

Release Being Sought.

AUSTIN, April 19.—(AP)—Applications for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Floyd Hamilton, brother of Raymond Hamilton, southwest desperado, and Steve Davis, Hamilton's stepfather, were filed here today.

Adjutant General Henry H. Hutchings was ordered to produce Hamilton and Davis before District Judge J. D. Moore at 9 a. m., Saturday.

The applications were signed by Mrs. Alice Davis and Mrs. Mildred Hamilton. They alleged Hamilton and Davis were arrested in Dallas April 5, by Texas rangers and have been in custody since, although no complaint has been filed against them.

General Hutchings said "we will have Hamilton and Davis in court Saturday," but declared he did not know in what jail they are confined.

He said they are in charge of a North Texas Ranger, and "I presume they are in some county jail for safekeeping."

Writ Issued in Dallas.

DALLAS, April 19.—(AP)—A writ commanding Ranger Captain D. E. Hamer to produce Floyd Hamilton, brother of Raymond Hamilton; and Steve Davis, Hamilton's step-father, in court here, April 12, was originally issued by District Judge Noland G. Williams.

When the date of the hearing arrived, it developed that Sheriff R. A. Schmid of Dallas county had been unable to serve notice of the writ on Captain Hamer and the hearing was passed until April 19.

Early this week, Mrs. Alice Davis, mother and wife of the two men, arrested for questioning concerning the whereabouts and activities of the escaped convict, Raymond Hamilton, requested that the writ be dismissed, according to her attorney, Jim Baker.

In the application for the writ filed here, Mrs. Davis charged that Texas Rangers acting under direction of Captain Hamer took her son and husband in custody the night of April 5 and were holding them secretly without privilege of counsel.

Sheriff Schmid says he knows nothing about the whereabouts of the two men.

BANKHEAD COTTON CONTROL BILL READY TO BE MADE LAW

FIRST VENTURE GOVERNMENT INTO DICTATORSHIP OVER VAST INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—The Bankhead cotton bill was at the White House today for the assured touch of a presidential pen to start the government's first venture into compulsory control of a major industry.

Congress stamped its acceptance across the measure yesterday when the house approved the conference report.

The purpose is to raise and stabilize prices and slash a heavy surplus by compelling farmers to hold their production to 10,000,000 bales for the 1934-35 season.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) coauthor, calls the measure a "new land mark in agricultural legislation." President Roosevelt favors its principle. And 95 per cent of the cotton farmers want it.

Opponents say it swings open the door to regimentation of all agriculture.

Their final ineffective sally against the bill was led yesterday by a southern democrat, Representative Busby of Mississippi, with the assertion it spelled "irretrievable surrender" of farmers' rights to regulate production.

"Planless agriculture condemns our south and our farmers elsewhere to external poverty," was the retort of Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee.

Fifty Per Cent Tax.

Restoring the bill virtually to the form in which the house originally passed it, that chamber adopted the conference report 235 to 105. A 50 per cent ad valorem tax on over-quota production is the big stick the measure holds over producers. The tax is to be at least 5 cents a pound.

The bill calls for quotas based on the average production of the last five years and it may be made effective in 1935-35 by presidential proclamation should two-thirds of the land owners, tenants and sharecroppers want the extension.

In a statement explaining provisions of the measure, Senator Bankhead put squarely on the shoulders of cotton growers the responsibility for its success.

"A new land mark in agricultural legislation has been established," he said. "The x x x cotton farmers x x x have been given a law under which they can, if they will, greatly reduce the existing burdensome surplus and also increase and stabilize the price of cotton. The effectiveness of the law as passed depends largley upon the spirit of co-operation manifested by the cotton growers."

Would Let Part Go to Waste.

The Alabaman suggested that farmers leave unpicked all cotton in excess of their allotments.

"It will be more profitable to leave it in the fields," he said, "than it will be to pick and gin it and pay the tax on it and by doing so reduce the price on all the exempt cotton by increasing the visible supply.

"An organized movement to accomplish that result would be tremendously helpful to all the people in the cotton belt."

Every possible safeguard against bootlegging excess cotton without paying the tax was written into the bill, Bankhead said.

The senator had fought for a 75 per cent tax, and the senate had accepted his plan. House conferees, however, held out for 50 per cent.

"If the tax had been 75 per cent," Bankhead asserted, "the limitation on ginning only 10,000,000 bales would have been automatically effective and in my opinion, a price increase would have been certain.

"If the production can be held down to 10,000,000 bales the same result will follow and the surplus will be materially reduced."

PICTURESQUE PERSONALITIES SEEKING NOMINATIONS VARIED OFFICES PRIMARY ELECTIONS

(By The Associated Press)

Picturesque personalities are seeking nomination both for congress and state offices at primaries this year.

In Pennsylvania, which votes May 15, there are five candidates for the republican nomination for United States senator, including Senator David A. Reed and Governor Gifford Pinchot. Roland S. Morris, formerly ambassador to Japan and Joseph F. Guffey, oil magnate, are candidates for the democratic nomination. There are 16 candidates for the republican nomination for governor and five for the democratic nomination, including George H. Earle, who resigned as minister to Austria to enter the campaign, and William N. McNair, the first democratic mayor Pittsburgh has had in years.

West Point classmates are seeking to be rival candidates for governor of Oregon. Major General Ulysses Grant McAlexander is after the renublican nomination and Major General Charles Henry Martin the democratic nomination. Both are retired. They were graduated from the military academy in 1887. The primary is May 18.

George Ross Pou of Raleigh desires to succeed his father, the late E. W. Pou, as a member of the North Carolina delegation in the house of representatives.

In Alabama, which has a primary May 1, former Senator Thomas J. Heflin is seeking a comeback for a democratic nomination for the house.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, noted golfer, desires to become a New Jersey legislator. Governor A. Harry Moore is to run for the United States senate. Apparently he will receive the democratic nomination without opposition. The primary is May 15

In Massachusetts there is talk of Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., grandson and namesake of a famous senator, being put up as a republican candidate against Senator David I. Walsh, democrat. The state will have a primary April 24 to select unpledged delegates to state conventions which will recommend candidates for primaries in September. Governor Joseph B. Ely, democrat, is retiring.

Thomas Moodie, editor of the Williston, N. D., Herald, once a printer's devil and later a railroad switchman, has been endorsed at a pre-primary convention for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In Mississippi ex-Governor Theodore G. Bilbo is a candidate for the senate. Cole L. Blease, former governor and senator, desires to go to the senate again from South Carolina.

Indiana on May 8 chooses delegates to state conventions. There is a bitter contest for control of the Democratic state convention between Gov. Paul V. McNutt and R. Earl Peters, formerly state chairman.

Mrs. Lily M. McBane of Spray, N. C., a member of the general assembly, is seeking a Democratic congressional nomination.

Gov. Marion Futrell of Arkansas, 61 years old, has no opposition to renomination. He is a Democrat.

ANOTHER CRIMINAL COMES TO ROW'S END BY OFFICER'S GUN

DAVID STOVALL, WITH NUMEROUS ALIASES, SLAIN IN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 18.—(AP)—Death today ended the outlawry of David Stovall, alias E. P. "Slippery" Elmer, Cal Spencer, and other names. He died of a bullet wound in a hospital.

Trapped by deputy sheriffs here last night, Stovall crawled out of a taxicab with a pistol in his hands and was met by a bullet through the head. Only one shot was fired.

Just a week before, a woman companion had screened him from ambushed officers' fire and he made his getaway as he had done many times before.

Elmer Green, captured nearby a few minutes later, was said by Deputy Sheriff George Kerr to have confessed that he and Stovall robbed a transcontinental bus near Fort Worth last week.

Kerr said Green also confessed that he and Stovall had kidnaped and robbed George B. Alexander, traveling salesman, near Fort Worth yesterday, using his automobile for the return trip to Oklahoma City. The automobile was held by authorities.

In addition, Kerr said Green told officers he and Stovall robbed a Fort Worth grocery of $165 last Thursday and admitted he had participated in a $1,800 bank robbery at Vega, Texas, a year ago.

Green signed a waiver of extradition and probably will be returned to Fort Worth by two Fort Worth detectives and O. Massey, general claim agent for the bus line.

Stovall was wanted here as a "Lover's Lane" gunman and for robbery in Tulsa.

Woman Is Undoing.

Gratitude of the 21-year-old woman whose life officers spared when she was forced to screen Stovall's previous getaway here was credited for his apprehention last night. When the officers learned Stovall was returning here, they took the woman in their car and had driven less than a block when she saw the outlaw in another machine.

"There he is!" she told Deputy Sheriffs Kerr and Ross Pierce.

The woman returned to her apartment and the officers lay in wait. Forty-five minutes later Stovall arrived in the taxi. Emerging, pistol in hand, he was shot by Pierce when he refused to obey the shout: "Hands up!"

Officers withheld the name of the woman.

Today the woman, Mrs. Zina Smith, declared: "I told him three months ago to stay away from me—this is what he got."

O. Massey, general claim agent for the Pickwick-Greyhound lines in Fort Worth, talked to Green today in his cell and viewed Stovalls' body. He said both men answered the description of the bus robbers who got $350 in cash and luggage and valuables worth $500.

Six Fort Worth officers accompanied Massey, intending to return Green. The bus agent spent the day checking the contents of six suitcases found in Green's room.

Officers said Stovall was arrested in 1923 for attempted murder at Phoenix, Ariz., was given a two-year term for highway robbery there in 1926, and escaped prison later.

SIX TESTIFY TALE OF DR. WIRT FALSE; PROBE ADJOURNED

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(AP)—Chairman Bulwinkle (D-NC) today told reporters the special house committee could "not prosecute Dr. William A. Wirt for perjury, but there is no reason why the district attorney and the grand jury shouldn't be able to take notice of the case."

The committee chairman made this statement after the six persons who dined with Wirt on September 1, the occasion on which he says he heard administration workers discuss revolutfonary intents, told house investigators he had testified untruthfully.

Bulwinkle declined further comment except that Dr. Wirt "at least imposed upon the committee."

After hearing six witnesses testify that Dr. Wirt's allegations about "brain trust" and "Kerensky" discussion at a Virginia dinner party in September were false, the Bulwinkle investigating committee adjourned.

PLANE NOSED DOWN INTO MUDDY PASTURE AND BODIES BURNED

ACCIDENT OCCURRED TUESDAY NIGHT NINE MILES FROM LEWISVILLE

LEWISVILLE, April 18.—(AP)—Four persons lost their lives last night when a private plane carrying a "joy riding" party crashed in flames during an electrical storm nine miles west of this Denton county farming town.

The doomed ship hit a muddy, plowed field, bounded some fifty feet into the air and then plunged to earth again, a mass of blazing wreckage holding its passengers in the grip of death.

The dead, all of Dallas, were:

HARRY FOWLER, 36, piloting the plane. He was employed by the Bolding and Murchison Oil company as a private pilot.

JACK POOLE, 40, owner of a printing business.

MISS LILLIAN ROSE, 17, fiancee of Fowler.

MRS. JEWEL MORGAN, a divorcee and beauty parlor operator.

The plane, which apparently had been in trouble for several minutes, crashed from an estimated altitude of 300 feet. Four Denton county farmers watched its fall. They said flames shot high in the air, blazed fiercely for 30 minutes and left nothing but twisted metal parts of the plane when they subsided.

More than 60 gallons of gasoline were in the plane's fuel tanks and this served to make torches of the four victims.

Early last night, Poole had called Fowler at Love Flying Field here and said he was bringing a girl friend with him to the field and would "like to go for a spin." Miss Rose already was at the field, having called her mother at 9 o'clock and obtained permission to stay there awhile longer.

Took Off About 10 p. m.

Poole and his woman companion, Mrs. Morgan, arrived at the field shortly before 10 p. m. and the four got into the six-place cabin plane and took off. Fowler told friends at the field he was taking the party up for a "little ride."

A few minutes later, four Denton county farmers heard the plane circling around and went out to see if it was in trouble. E. V. Christie, Melvin Adkins, Clay Robertson and Ernest Phipps all said they saw it. Frequent flashes of lightning made it plainly visible at a high altitude, they said.

They saw it drop sharply, and then straighten out when within 300 feet of the ground. The plane then headed toward Dallas, they said, just before it suddenly plunged, nose downward, to earth.

Phipps and Robertson were the first to reach the wreck but could not get near it for 30 minutes, so terrific was the heat.

Bodies Taken to Dallas

Ambulances brought the bodies to a Dallas undertaking establishment after they had been transported to Lewisville in a wagon drawn by two donkeys. A truck that tried to reach the scene became stuck in the mud.

Friends could not explain why Fowler went on an unnecessary flight in such turbulent weather. He was widely-known as a highly capable and careful pilot. Many fliers in Texas and elsewhere have been trained by him.

Fowler's parents and a sister live in Houston. He was born in Beaumont and spent his early years there. His father left Houston for Dallas to return the body to Houston.

He trained as a flier at Brooks and Kelly Field, the army field at San Antonio.

Flew at Dodd Field

Subsequently he was attached to the twelfth observation squadron at Dodd Field, San Antonio, and later was sent to Hensley Field near Dallas to train student fliers. In Sept. 1930, the Browning-Ferris Machinery company bought the ship in which the crash occurred, and selected Fowler from several dozen applicants to pilot it.

The machinery company sold the plane about a year later to the Gold and Murchison Oil company, and that company retained Fowler to pilot it.

Miss Rose was the daughter of Mrs. Cleve Rose. She also was survived by a sister, Miss Gertrude Rose. She met Fowler last December and they were planning to marry.

Poole was well known at Love Field. He sold printing to various industrial units there and took frequent flights with the fliers around the airport. He had been a friend of Mrs. Morgan for some time.

Mrs. Morgan lived here with her mother, Mrs. Essie Huddle; and her son, Jack, 10.

Called Mother

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Morgan went to the Arlington Downs horse races with Poole and when they returned to the city, she called her mother and told her she wouldn't be home for a while. Mrs. Huddle became worried when her daughter failed to return home last night. This morning she tried to locate Mrs. Morgan at the place she worked. She first learned from a newspaper of her daughter's death.

J. T. Follis, justice of the peace at Lewisville, waded through mud to the middle of the plowed field and examined the wrecked ship. He formally ruled that all four victims came to their death as a result of a crash. The big motor of the ship was partially buried in the mud. The ship hit nose first, then turned over.

Poole had been married but was divorced. His father was J. J. Poole of Edinburg, who was notified immediately and started to Dallas to arrange for his son's funeral.

Half Billion For Public Works At Start New Year

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and his aides decided today upon a $500,000,000 appropriation for public works for the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, upon leaving the White House, told reporters that $200,000,000 would be used for continuing during the coming year existing projects initiated under the $3,300,000,000 program.

The remaining $300,000,000 will be used for new projects.

The $500,000,000 will be earmarked in the general lump sum relief appropriation to be asked shortly from congress.

SUING COMPANIES ELIGIBLE TO BID FOR AIRMAIL WORK

EVANS FORMER AIRWAY EXECUTIVE LEARNED BY SENATE INVESTIGATORS

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley told newsmen today the four aviation companies seeking to restrain him from enforcing abrogation of their airmail contracts would be eligible to bid for new contracts if they complied with requirements.

Boeing Air Transport, Inc.; National Air Transport, Inc.; Pacific Air Transport; and Varney Air Lines, Inc.—all United Aircraft transportation, Inc. subsidies — asked the District of Columbia supreme court yesterday to enjoin Farley from enforcing the cancellation order and to make him pay as yet unspecified damages.

Bids for flying 21 routes for three months are to be opened by the department at noon tomorrow.

Meanwhile, senate air mail investigators questioned W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, about the cancellation.

Senator Austin (R-Vt.) drew from Howes the testimony that Harman Evans, fourth assistant postmaster general, was formerly vice president of the American Airways, a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation, a holding company controlled aviation corporation. Evans has resigned to take a position in a Baltimore financial firm.

FRANK DISCUSSION NEW DEAL PROBLEMS SLATED BY EDITORS

INFORMAL TALK WITH PRESIDENT IS SCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY NIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 19.—(AP)—A frank discussion of new problems "precipitated upon the press by the new deal" was invited today at the outset of a three-day meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The men who direct the nation's newspapers were told by Paul Bellamy, managing editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and president of the society, that plans for the meeting had been drawn on the theory that "we would not be afraid to tackle hot powers because they were hot."

Bellamy said in a prepared address:

"It is well the freedom of the press is guaranteed in the constitution. For myself I am grateful to those of our number who by their own efforts had that freedom reiterated in the newspaper code.

"But in the larger sense we will make or break the freedom of the press by the use we make of that freedom in our newspapers."

An informal chat with President Roosevelt is on the editorial program for tonight.

SENSATIONAL PLOT BY TROTZKY TO SET UP DICTATORSHIP

PARIS, April 18.—(AP)—A sensational plot by Leon Trotzky to use the February riots to set up his own dictatorship in France by a red revolution was revealed in his party organ, authorities disclosed today.

A revolution by "an armed Workers' militia" was urged, they said, in a manifesto issued by the exiled former Russian leader after the fatal rioting in the streets of Paris on February 6.

"The two forces have just measured swords," the manifesto said. "War has begun between them. There is no possible peace, but in a fight to the death. In the street, by force, will be decided the future."

The manifesto urged "a vast workers' alliance of all proletarian bodies and the organization of a workers' militia without delay."

As a result of the new disclosures of the political activity of Trotzky, the government was expected to speed its moves for his expulsion, ordered yesterday.

Secret service police revealed that several days of grace have been granted Trotzky for his search in an attempt to find a country willing to accept him.

"We are not pushing him," one member of the secret service said, despite the increasing information gathered regarding his plans for his "fourth international."

Another official declared that reports Trotzky is considering the United States and Spain are "mere guesswork."

STORM

Authorities were checking damage in outlying sections of the parish.

The storm here appeared to be a part of a general disturbance which moved northeastward from the Texas coast, across south Louisiana and into the eastern sector of the state, headed toward central Mississippi.

Thirty Derricks Levelled.

Galveston reported more than 30 oil derricks blown down and houses damaged in a wind which struck at High Island 25 miles northeast of Galveston. No injuries were reported there.

After passing through South Louisiana, high winds were subsequently reported in the state capital at Baton Rouge, La., where trees and telephone poles were knocked down and damage was done to vegetation and homes. That point reported the storm path to be several miles wide, extending for some distance north and south of the city. Lasting about two hours, the worst of the disturbance had passed by noon.

A survey showed that at about the same hour, New Orleans and other sections of southeast Louisiana were heavily overcast with black clouds, moving swiftly n an easterly direction.

Torrential rains were general over the southern portions of the state.

Rain, Wind at Houston.

HOUSTON, April 19.—(AP)—A brief, but severe, rain and wind storm here early today was believed the cause of the serious injury of O. S. Buesche, 47.

Buesche suffered a possible fracture in the skull when he ran into a car driven by S. D. Weatherford. Weatherford said Buesche apparently was blinded by the wind and rain.

The wind was of gale proportions. Numerous windows in the outlying sections were blown out. Some damage was done to telephone and power lines.

The rainfall ranged from .26 to .79 inch.

High Island Damage.

GALVESTON, April 19.—(AP)—Considerable damage was done at High Island early today when a sharp rain squall struck that oil town, located 25 miles northeast of Galveston on Bolivar Peninsula.

Thirty-three oil derricks were blown down, several houses were shifted off their foundation blocks and a pile driver owned by a construction company working on a railway bridge at Mud Bayou was overturned.

None of the residents of the island was reported injured.

The Yount-Lee Oil company estimates it suffered $40,000 damage in the storm.

LLANO, April 19.—(AP)—A driving rain and hail storm slashed through a strip several miles wide in western Llano county near Castell last night, washing down fences, stripping trees of their leaves and fruit and ruining gardens. In the southern part of the county, hail smashed a number of windows and did some damage to trees and crops.

SATISFACTORY STUDENTS.

Apparently there are still alumni who think that college students today are sillier and more frivolous than their predecessors were a generation ago. Those in a position to observe hold a different view.

The proprietor of a restaurant in a college town has seen students come and go for many years. He maintains that today's undergraduates are a pretty satisfactory lot. They do get into some mischief and have fun, but they are at the same time studious and serious when those qualities are required.

They have more poise than college students had as recently as 20 years ago, some old-timers say. One needs only to listen to their debates and to read undergraduate newspapers to learn that they are awake to current problems—economic, governmental and social—and are giving sound thinking to these matters. They are a good deal more serious about abolishing war than young people used to be, and they seem to understand that it is a difficult problem, not merely a matter of resolutions and good intentions.

NEW MODEL FOR WAR

Two Frenchmen, a former foreign minister and a Royalist, recently fought a modern duel. In correct phraseology, they "exchanged two bullets without results." The affair was conducted with strict observance of the code, which prescribes how far apart opponents shall stand, and all that. No one was hurt, all four bullets going wide of their supposedly intended marks. Two tries apiece constitute a duel, and the show is over when they have been fired, even when no one is hit.

Dueling has been frowned upon rather generally in recent times. But this and similar recent bouts in France suggest that pacifists are overlooking a bet. Why strive to prevent wars? Why not merely arrange for an interchange of shots without injury to either side? Provide soldiers with blank cartridges and see to it that other explosive weapons are shot off only after it has been definitely ascertained that they won't hit anything. Limit each army to two volleys of this aimless firing in any particular battle, and limit the total number of battles in any war. Then let the armies shake hands and go home.

ABUNDANCE

The challenging phrases coming into use lately are "philosophy of abundance" and "economics of scarcity." The former gets the cheers and the latter gets the boos. The idea is that in the past we have based our economic systems on a scarcity of goods and services, accepting poverty as a normal thing and comfortable living as exceptional. And in past ages this was mostly true, say the new thinkers. But now, with our enormously productive machinery, our science and intelligence and our natural resources, we easily have plenty for everybody if we only thought so and revised our methods. Most of the disciples of this new gospel, however, think of it as requiring drastic social and political changes.

Henry Ford doesn't talk about the "philosophy of abundance." But he remarks:

"They say, 'Business is good—let's boost our prices.' They boost their prices, and business slacks off again, and they are surprised and puzzled.

"Prices should be coming down. During the slack period we should have learned more efficient methods, and we should have acquired so much more skill as to give the world what it needs in greater quantity and better quality at lower prices."

This may be the way to realize abundance under our capitalistic system.

Everything will be better as soon as the rest of us follow the President's example and go fishing for a while.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1933, Edgar A. Guest.)

A timid old woman pushed open a door,
For lost in the building was she,
And the person she anxiously questioned for
Seemed nowhere about to be.

Disturbed by her coming, a man arose,
But he smiled as he heard her say:
"With so many doors that open and close,
I'm afraid I have lost my way.

"They have sent me here and they've sent me there,
And so busy they seem to be,
I suppose they haven't a minute to spare
For a poor little body like me."

The man said: "Worry yourself no more.
Come, follow along with me
And I'll take you straight to the very door
Of the person you wish to see."

"You're the thoughtfulest man of them all," said she,
As out of the room they went;
And the man replied: "Well, I ought to be!
I'm the company's president."

STIMULATING NEWSPAPERS

"It is a truism," remarks the Canadian Statesman of Bowmanville, Ont., "that today's newspaper is tomorrow morning's kindling. But people who have anything to do with newspapers feel that they help to kindle something more than the kitchen fire. They like to think that the presentation of facts helps to kindle intelligence and interest; that the exposition of opinions stimulates readers into thinking things out for themselves, and while the physical papers may be destroyed, the effect on the reader remains."

There is probably nothing in his daily life—unless it be the weather—about which the average person crabs more than he does about his newspaper. And yet he can't get along without it. It doubtless influences him and benefits him more than he knows or admits, even while he complains of its faults and inaccuracies. If letters from readers are a true indication, a newspaper kindles considerable interest and argument, at least, and probably also intelligence and thought.

VOTERS' RESPONSIBILITY

A citizens' organization in a city which has tried and discarded the manager plan of government, issues a bulletin explaining why that system failed. It gives five reasons:

1. Persistent and unremitting bedevilment of administrative offices by party leaders and partisan councilmen for party spoils and special facors.

2. Antagonism produced by failure of the council and manager to recognize the clear distinctions in the charter between their respective fields of activities.

3. Accumulated antagonisms which develop against any charter under the American idea of regarding government as a grab bag into which every citizen has a right to dip his hand and grab all he can get.

4. Dislike of the proportional representation method of election. It was especially obnoxious to the party leaders.

5. Because the voters, as usual, voted their resentments rather than their appreciations.

In other words, the manager plan of government failed in that community because it was never honestly tried, and because public leaders and private citizens left it to the professional politicians to operate. Any form of government would break down under the same conditions.

CITY SPRING SONG —By Clive Weed

MUSIC AND BREADWINNING.

Speaking of frills, as a great many persons have been doing since school funds began to run low, it has been found in one city, at least, that music is the most practical subject students have had lately. The high school graduates who have played in the band and orchestra during their four years have been getting the jobs while school mates who took supposedly more practical subjects—business courses, shop, and so on—have had to wait.

This is doubtless a temporary unbalance, and suggests that dances and consequently dance-players are popular, but it holds a lesson for school critics just the same. The fact remains that later on when these youngsters have found other jobs, their music will remain an asset to themselves and others.

ELECTRIC FARMING.

Electricity can be used not only for factories, but for gardens. The first Electric Garden Show is held in Cleveland. It is enirely an indoor affair. Its exhibit consists of flowers and plants of many kinds actually growing. Warmth and light are artificial. There are ordinary electric lights for the gardeners to work by, sun lamps to make the plants grow, electric currents to warm and sterilize the soil and electric devices to catch and kill destructive insects.

Penthouse or basement gardening may soon be fashionable. The modern apartment house, or even private dwelling, may raise its own flowers and vegetables. Here is something for the new leisure we're all supposed to have.

Giving our imagination free rein, we might reach in fancy a point arrived at by Kipling a generation ago, when he wrote the story about a farm woman sitting on her porch knitting, and pulling a lever from time to time as a mechanical plow out in the field reached the end of a furrow. We already roll steel plates in that way; why not do farm work electrically by remote control?

There are said to be ten times as many barbers and hairdressers in the country as there were in 1850. And as far as we can gather from our researches, one-tenth as much hair.

Now automotive engineers are arguing about whether to put the motor forward or aft. Why not compromise and put it under the car?

JAPAN IS DRAFTING WARNING TO NATIONS QUIT AIDING CHINA

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

TOKYO, April 17.—(AP)—The draft of a "restatement and clarification" of Japan's policy toward China which may be made the basis of protests to the United States was revealed to the Associated Press today.

From a high official source, it was learned the draft already has been submitted by the foreign office to Foreign Minister Koki Hirota for approval.

It will be communicated shortly to the Japanese minister at Nanking and to all other Japanese officials now in China.

The draft contains a statement of Japan's insistence that she holds special responsibility to "maintain the peace in East Asia" and to determine that China's contacts with other powers shall not be of such a nature as to jeopardize that peace.

In order that other powers may "fully understand" an official spokesman said the draft probably will be communicated to Japanese ambassadors in Washington and other capitals to serve as a basis for explanations to the governments to which they are accredited.

The draft declares:

"Japan must object" when efforts to aid China take the form of "the supplying of military airplanes, the establishment of airdromes, the furnishing of military advisers and instructions, and the granting of political loans."

Sales by America.

The spokesman declined to state how this would be applicable to the sales by American manufacturers of airplanes to China, participation by American companies in the establishment of Chinese air routes; the United States government's cotton and wheat loan to China and the employment of American aviation instructros by the Chinese government.

He continued, however:

"History shows that technical or financial aid to China almost inevitably becomes military or political, in which event Japan must object."

There are many American aviators in China at the present time selling airplanes and instructing Chinese fliers.

Among these American airmen is Frank Hawkes, sped pilot, who is demonstrating a huge bomber to Chinese government authorities.

The spokesman declined to speculate on what the form of Japan's possible objections would be or how far they would go.

What Japan desires primarily, he said, is for "other powers to recognize her special responsibility and unique position as the guardian of the peace in East Asia."

Not Trying Close Door.

He denied Japan is trying to close the open door and declared Nippon has no intention of renouncing the four-power consortium that America, Britain, France and Japan formed in 1920 to lend aid to China.

The spokesman added, however, that under its redrafted policy Japan henceforth will oppose all movements for a similar consortium.

Denying Japan seeks abandonment of the 1922 nine-power treaty, the spokesman declared Japan considers China as gravely in danger of participation as she was at the end of the 19th century when Russia, Britain, Germany and France were, he said, staking out claims on Chinese territory.

The efforts of foreigners and China herself to encourage a division, the spokesman asserted, adding that Japan is determined to prevent this.

A perusal of the draft leads to the conclusion that Japan is ready to inform other powers they must not attempt to assist China in any way likely to make China a more formidable opponent of policies Japan considers essential to the peace of East Asia.

ARMY BOARD TOLD TO FIND OUT WHAT AIR SERVICE LACKS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—Secretary Dern dropped the army's air policy into the lap of an 11-man board of inquiry today.

The war department chief opened the investigation into all phases of army flying just a day after President Roosevelt called for a congressional commission to outline a national air policy.

"Keep politics out of this," was the tenor of Secretary Dern's administration to the committee of six civilian and five military air authorities. He directed them to find out what should be done to make the army air corps "second to none in modern equipment and training."

"Your mission is technical, not political," he said.

The group is headed by Newton D. Baker, wartime secretary of war. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was originally named, but declined to serve. The inquiry was decided upon after a dozen fatalities accompanied the Army's taking over of the airmail.

As the army air corps investigators sat down at the war department for their first meeting, President Roosevelt's demand for a national aviation policy was getting prompt attention on capitol hill.

The president, in conferring at the white house yesterday with three congressional leaders, told them he wantd:

First: A commission named by congress to outline a national aviatio npolicy, and

Second: Speedy enactment of pending airmail legislation in order to free airmail awards quickly from any contact with politics.

The men to whom he spoke were Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) chairman of the senate postoffice committe, Representative Mead (D-NY), holding the same chairmanship in the house, and Chairman Black (D-Ala) of the senate's airmail investigating committee.

White House Statement

"In view of the lack of, and the need for a national policy, the congress might well authorize the appointment of a commission to make immediate study and recommend to the next congress a board policy covering all phases of aviation and the relationship of government thereto.

"Insofar as that part of aviation which relates to carrying United States mail is concerned, contracts could well be let on competitive bidding for one year or until such time as a broad policy relating to aviation as a whole is adopted."

It added that the administration intended to reney short term mail contracts, for which the post office department now is getting bids, until "permanent legislation is enacted next session."

TAX REDUCTIONS, PAY RESTORATIONS AND FULL RELIEF

CHANCELLOR OF EXCHEQUER TELLS COMMONS GOVERNMENT HAS SURPLUS

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—The British public today received a gift of a six pence in the pound reduction of income taxes—a reduction in the case of small incomes, of approximately 10 per cent.

The reduction was announced by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, in telling the house of commons and a cheering throng of spectators of his budget for 1934-35.

He further declared that one-half the pay cuts suffered by government employes would be restored July 1 and that unemployment relief would be fully restored at the same time.

He said that with the first of the year the present automobile license tax would be cut 25 per cent from its present rate of 1 pound per one horse power.

He announced that in the fiscal year just ending Great Britain had run up a surplus in its government operation of 39,000,000 pounds—approximately $200,000,000—and that the ensuing year should show Great Britain with a profit of 29,100,000 pounds—or $145,500,000.

In his budget, he declared, he did not propose to make any provision for the payments of war debts to America or the receipts of war debts from Great Britain's debtors.

He said that at the present time it was impossible to contemplate a reduction of indirect taxation.

His statement was made in the midst of a speech in which he said Great Britain had now "regained its place as the first exporting country in the world."

He told his listeners, who cheered him repeatedly, that the past fiscal year had shown a profit of 39,000,000 pounds — or about $200,000,000—and that "the atmosphere is distinctly brighter".

He listed sources of revenue in proposing his budget for the year 1934-35 and said that in the year past the beer tax had produced 5,000,000 pounds more than expected but that there had been a deficit in the revenues from tea and sugar. Groans followed cheers with this announcement.

FRENCH TERMS FOR ENFORCEMENT ARMS TREATY ON GERMANY

PARIS, April 17.—(AP)—France hesitates to sign any arms convention, it was revealed today, unless it gets Great Britain's pledge of aid in case of attack. Terms for enforcement of a treaty were approved by the cabinet for submission to London.

PARIS, April 17.—(AP)—French terms for enforcement of any arms limitation theaty involving German rearmament were approved today by the cabinet for submission to London.

A note drafted by Premier Gaston Doumergue and Louis Barthou, foreign minister, supplements a previous response to a British request for details of French security demands of London.

In the earlier note France indicated it wanted an entirely new arms "limitation" conference, since disarmament was considered dead.

Among methods by which France has considered enforcing limitation, it was understood, are financial and economic blockades and "diplomatic co-operation," with military enforcement as a last resort.

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—The big increase in the German budget for armaments was described in authoritative British quarters today as having "a disturbing effect" on disarmament negotiations.

It is regarded as tending to make efforts to persuade France and other neighbors of Germany to disarm more difficult. This budget expenditure, however, is not being used by the British government as a proof in itself that Germany is violating the Versailles treaty.

It was pointed out that the nature of the armaments which Germany builds and not the amount of money spent is the way in which the treaty would be concerned.

BOYCE MARTIN TO ATTEND METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE

QUADRENNIAL SESSION OF SOUTHERN METHODISM AT JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet in Jackson, Miss., starting April 26th, all sessions to be held in the Municipal Auditorium, that will seat thirty-five hundred people. This conference only meets every four years and is the highest tribunal of the Methodist Church. Laws of the church are made, bishops elected at these conferences.

Corsicana will be represented by Boyce Martin, who goes as a delegate from the Central Texas Conference as well as the First Methodist church, and by Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the First Church of this city, who goes as an alternate, both being elected at the annual conference in Corsicana last November. Dr. Caspar E. Wright, presiding elder, will attend as an observer. Others probably will attend from this district.

Two former pastors of First Church will go as delegates, Dr. F. P. Culver of Fort Worth and Dr. J. W. Bergin of Georgetown. W. W. Ward, pastor of the Mexia church in the Corsicana district, will also go as a delegate, all being elected at the Corsicana annual conference last year.

A layman's election to the General Conference in Methodist circles is considered one of the highest honors the church can confer. The conference usually lasts some three weeks. Mr. Martin will be accompanied by Mrs. Martin and two children, Martha and Boyce, Jr., and Mrs. Howard Caldwell. Mesdames Martin and Caldwell are natives of Mississippi and while Mr. Martin is attending the conference, they will visit relatives in Jackson, Philadelphia, Hattiesburg and points in Louisiana. The trip will be made by automobile and the party will leave Corsicana Tuesday, April 24th, and return by the way of New Orleans.

Many important questions will come up at the conference, such as shall women be licensed to preach, shall more bishops be elected and how many; term Episcopacy, a new financial plan, church schools, church periodicals, religious education, presiding elder districts; shall bishops be compelled to live in their districts, who shall name the Episcopal districts, the College of Bishops or the General Conference; consolidation of boards, the mission field; how delegates shall be elected at district conference to the annual conference and at annual conferences to the general onference, and many other questions concerning the welfare of the church.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless use of strong laxatives may do more harm than good.

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

YOUTH KILLS MAN ALLEGEDLY STEALING TURKEYS TUESDAY

GAINESVILLE, April 19.—(AP)—William Owen Davis, 21, who admitted to officers and newspapermen that he shot and killed Nugent Suddath, 45, of Leonard after Suddath had stole some turkeys from his pasture, awaited action of the grand jury Monday as he went free under bond today.

Davis told officers that Suddath, and his brother, about 30, who faces turkey theft charges, shot and killed two turkeys on his pasture late Tuesday. Davis and his brother approached the Suddaths to question them. The men attempted to hide the turkeys in a nearby ditch, Davis said.

Davis did not shoot until Nugent grabbed a rifle and dodged back of the car, he told officers. Suddath was killed instantly by two charges that pierced his chest, while the other man threw up his arms.

The Davis boys called officers.

PHYSICIANS ARE TOLD NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE IS ALL MYTH AND VARIES WITH INDIVIDUAL

CHICAGO, April 19.—(AP)—There is no such thing as "normal" blood pressure at any period of life, and what is normal for one man may indicate disease in another, the American College of Physicians was told today.

Every individual has his own blood pressure "picture" which is a key to his own condition but does not fit into any general scheme for people as a whole, said Dr. Clarence L. Andrews of Atlantic City, N. J. A dozen men all may have blood pressures that differ considerably, yet all be normal as far as each individual is concerned.

"Deaths compiled by 50 odd life insurance companies show that heart disease heads the mortality list," he stated, "and that of the ten main causes of premature cardiac (heart disease) deaths hypertension (high blood pressure) was the leading factor.

"Single, distinct causes of blood pressure disturbances are no longer thought to be true. The much sought-after, so-called normal blood pressure range is gradually losing caste. Blood pressure types are judged less and less as groups and more and more as individuals."

Despite individual differences, however, there are four main blood pressure types, Dr. Andrews said, which are:

Stable—Those whose blood pressure shows practically no change from early life to old age.

Hereditary—Those who inherit a predisposition to either high or low blood pressure or whose system cannot adapt itself to strenuous living. A quiet life benefits them greatly.

Unbalanced—Due to heart weakness after a severe illness, or nerve strain after "burning the candle at both ends," benefitted by proper care.

Chronic—Abnormal blood pressure beyond repair.

GOOD RESPONSE TO LOCAL OFFER FREE PLACEMENT SERVICE

A very lively response has been made to the offer of free placement srvice made by the U. S. Department of Labor's National Re-employment office, located at 412 North Beaton, according to Ray W. Morgan, acting manager of the office.

"As the facilities of the service become better known to the public at large, a much steadier and more uniform patronage by employers of all classes is noticed," he said

Mr. Morgan was particularly interested in the service his office was called upon to render in cooperation with other key offices throughout the State. Employers of highly skilled labor, finding their requirements difficult to fill in their immediate locality, are making their wants known to the nearest Re-employment "key" office. That office then clears through the central state office, and labor of the necessary highly skilled qualifications is located at the nearest possible point to the demand for same.

"It is quite easy to see that this system brings about the most economic and speedy result for both employer and employee," Mr. Morgan said. "It prevents a more expensive and less satisfactory procedure for the employer, while at the same time it offers great advantage to the unemployed skilled individual, who is thus saved the time and expense incident to unguided search for work, often at points where no work opportunities exist."

NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood Hints.

Miss Forbes dashed off to Hollywood the other week, and rturned with some new ideas as to movie star's beauty fashions. Read of them today.

There is one thing about going to Hollywood — there is always something new going on to write about. As far as beauty news goes, there was even some of that, when I was out in Hollywood not so long ago. This time it was a flying trip, but here are the new things.

Strawberry blonde hair is quite new. I went to a party the night I arrived, and two actresses turned up, both with strawberry blonde hair. One had had hers dyed from its cold platinum color (platinum blonde, as you know, is not so good any more.) The other girl, more sensibly, were a wig. As you can imagine, this is a pinkish blonde color; it doesn't look in the least like a genuine color, yet it is most becoming. And out here in this artificial atmosphere it goes very well.

The pearl finger nails I talked about are being worn—if I can use that phrase—a little more than before. Now they do the sensible thing and make the whole nail pearl down to the tip, leaving only the moon part without the polish. They used to use the pearl for the finger tops only, but the effect was not good at all. Try this pearl lustre when your hands are sunburned and see what an odd and attractive effect you get, the pearl lustre against the tanned skin.

The newest thing in Palm Springs, where everyone goes week-ends for a rest and to lie in the sun and burn a deep brown, is to coat yourself all over with oil and vinegar. You use cocoanut oil, and the cook mixes in the same amount of vinegar and you shake this up and rub yourself all over with it. Then you retire to the ladies' sun-bathing place, strip and lie and bake—you turn a heavenly golden brown and you feel and look like a million dollars after an hour of this. Or you lie in transparent envelopes which they claim makes you a neat brown all over, but prevent you from burning red and then peeling afterward.

Marie B.—The red streak that appeared in your hair after using the tonic is due to some chemical reaction that took place. If you had been using a bleach previous to this the tonic would not have affected the color. The only thing you can do now is to keep bleaching until you lighten the streaked portion of the hair. If the effect is still unsatisfactory, the best thing to do would be to have all your hair dyed to its natural shade.

Mrs. B. C. Equal parts witch hazel and peroxide will make a simple and harmless bleach, but never let any of it get near enough to the brows or lashes, or they will share in theb leaching. You might try this bleach also on your chest, and also use a foundation of cream for a heavy coating of powder.

B. G. V.—The white spots on your arms may be due to the lack of color pigment in the skin. The only thing you can do about them is to cover them with a coating of powder, or a lotion for temporary covering of slight skin blemishes.

John V. Apparently your scalp condition is the cause for the extreme dryness of your skin over your forehead. Continue the scalp treatment, especially that for removing the dandruff through the oil rubbings hours before the shampoo, and not only he scalp will be ket cleared, giving the skin a chance to function normally, but you will get rid of the trouble over your forehead.

Tomorrow—Keep Yourself Flexible.

Pneumonia Caused Death of Former U. S. Senator

BOSCOBEL, Wis., April 17.—(AP)—Pneumonia caused the death last night of former United States Senator John J. Blaine, 58, who was three times governor of Wisconsin, and a member of the RFC board. Funeral services were tentatively set for Thursday.

Blaine was one of the outstanding political figures of the state for more than a quarter century. He was one of the "old guard" in the progressive Republican faction.

Survivors include his widow and a daughter, Mrs. Don Farris of Madison.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 6 to 8 points decline on lower cables and under liquidation and foreign selling, May 11.57; July 11.69; Oct. 11.82; Dec. 11.94; Jan. 12.00; March 12.07.

Initial offerings were absorbed by trade buying in the near months while there was scattered covering or rebuying in later deliveries. This demand was supplied on gains of a point or two, however, and May eased too 11.56 and October to 11.80. Active months showed net losses of about 9 to 10 points by the end of the first half hour.

Prices later worked off to 11.51 for May and 11.77 for October, or about 13 to 18 points net lower. Offerings were not heavy but there was considerable May liquidation and scattered selling. At midday May was selling around 11.55 and October 11.80, or 3 to 4 points up from the lowest.

Futures closed steady, 5-8 lower. Spot steady; middling 11.75.

New Orleans Cotton Easier.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened easier today as Liverpool was lower than due. There was some overnight selling at the start and first trades here were 3 to 6 points down. Steps rallied one to two points after the call on some trade buying and price fixing but reacted again as soon as this demand was filled. By the end of the first half hour, May had eased to 11.62, July to 11.69 and October to 11.82, or 6 points net lower on all active months. Cotton prices after ruling quiet during the firs thalf of the morning turned easier later on liquidation by longs, reflecting a break in wheat. Near noon, the market had reacted to 11.53 for July and 11.64 for October, or 22 to 24 points below yesterday's close.

CONSTRUCTION BIDS FOR TRINITY RIVER BRIDGE BE RECEIVED

TEXAS HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO RECEIVE BIDS ON APRIL 30TH

Bids for the construction of the big bridge spanning the Trinity river on Highway 22, two miles south of Wildcat ferry will be received by the Texas Highway Commission, April 30, acording to advertisements prepared by M. L. Bowers, resident state highway engineer, Wednesday.

The engineer stated that he had hopes the advertisemeit for bids on the dirt and drainage structures and also for the bridge spanning Chambers Creek would be ready in time for the receiving of bids April 30. The dirt and drainage structures will be for the 13 1-2 miles gap between the improved Anderson county roads and the 18-foot concrete slab extending from Corsicana to the southeastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1, southeast of Eureka. This gap, when completed, will give an all-weather and direct route between Corsicana and Palestine and other East Texas points and also will give access into the Cayuga oil fields in the northwestern section of Anderson county and also in the southwestern section of Henderson county.

Delegation Appears.

Henderson, Anderson and Navarro county delegations recently appeared before the state highway commission to urge the early completion of the highway, and also sought a temporary detour via Malakoff to Highway 31 and thence into Corsicana.

The resident engineer reported that the work order had been issued for the dirt and drainage structures on 11 miles of Highway 22 from Hillsboro east to a point near Brandon and that this work would be started as soon as the weather conditions will permit.

Paving equipment for use on the concrete slab of 6.3 miles of pavement on Highway 22 from a point on the Corsicana-State Home road to the northwestern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1 in the vicinity of Pinkston is on the ground and the paving will start as soon as weather conditions permit. The dirt and drainage structures are practically completed on this sector, it was pointed out.

Paving Delayed.

Due to the black lands encountered on the sector immediately northwest of Corsicana to Pinkston ,it is feared, however, that the paving cannot be done for several weeks.

"There will be lots of road construction activity on Highway 22 this summer," Mr. Bowers sated. When the contract for dirt and drainage structures on that gap from Pinkston to the Hill county sector via Barry, Blooming Grove, Frost and Mertens is expected was not disclosed by Mr. Bowers, but it is expected that renewed activity in that sector will be started in early summer and it is hoped that the entre distance between Palestine and Hillsboro which has not been improved will be under construction durng 1934.

Grains and Provisions

Fort Worth Cash Grain.

FORT WORTH, April 19.—(AP)—Demand was rather poor for wheat but good for other offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market today.

Nominal prices quoted by the grain price committee of the Fort Worth grain and cotton exchange and based on bids, offers and sales to mid-day Thursday, ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery points:

Delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat No. 1 hard 76 1-4@80 1-4.

Barley No. 2, 52-53; No. 3, 51-52.

Delivered Texas common points or group three:

Corn No. 2 white 63 1-4@63 3-4; No. 2 yellow 60 1-4@60 3-4.

Oats No. 2 red 38-39; No. 3 red 37-38.

Wheat Slumps.

CHICAGO, April 18.—(AP)—Wheat crashed downward late today 5 cents a bushel, the extreme limit that existing regulations allow in any 24-hour period. A statement ascribed to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that domestic and world prices of wheat would work closer together during the present year led to general liquidating sales on the part of holders of wheat on a market bare of any aggressive demand. Wild fluctuations followed the 5-cent fall of the market, with heavy stop loss selling a feature.

This was the eighth successive day of declining prices for wheat in Chicago. It was noted as significant that the Liverpool wheat market closed today 1 1-2 cents a bushel under the Chicago May delivery, compared with 18 cents discount on Monday. Contributing to weakness of the Chicago market was arrival of nearly 50 carloads of wheat from Kansas City recently bought for Chicago handlers.

Wheat closed feverish, 2 3-4@3 cents under yesterday's finish, May 74 7-8@75, July 75-75 1-8; corn unchanged to 5-8 higher, May 43 1-8, 1-4; July 45 3-8 7-8; oats 1-8 off to 1-8 up, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents down.

Roosevelt Asserts He Is Sold on Texas; Hopes to Visit State Next Year

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today received a delegation of Texas newspaper editors and in a brief talk expressed the hope of going to Texas next year for some fishing.

Lowry Martin, business manager of the Corsicana Daily Sun, presented the president the Lone Star flag of the state of Texas, and Mr. Roosevelt announced he would place it in his library in the White House.

"I am very appreciative of the state of Texas," said Mr. Roosevelt. "Sometimes I have the feeling that Texas is not only the largest state but that it is running the government more largely than any other state. When I go away to the Bahamas for fishing or to other places, the vice president carries on 100 per cent in my absence.

"Then, too, all the purse strings of the government are in the pocket of Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC.

"I am very happy in your congressional delegation. Senator Morris Sheppard and my old friend Tom Connally are among my warmest friends and supporters. In the house—well, there are occasional lapses in the house, but we get along very well.

"I hope to get down to Texas next year and try some fishing. Jack Garner has taught me how to tell fish stories. I want to make him prove them.

"I hope you will get to every state in the union. You don't have to sell Texas to me."

The editors brought a carload of Texas products including everything from grapefruit to beef. W. C. Edwards presented a bill of lading for the car to the president.

Vice President Garner, Senators Connally and Sheppard and Jesse Jones presented the editors to the president in his office.

Martin assured Mr. Roosevelt that the people of Texas attributed the new deal to "your efforts, ingenuity and hard work."

The Texas delegation numbered 102.

They were met at the station by a group of Texans resident in Washington, including Vice President Garner, Chairman Jones of the reconstruction finance corporation, Silliman Evans, fourth assistant postmaster general, Senators Sheppard and Connally and members of the house.

The president originally had planned to meet the party at the station. He received the delegation in his private office.

Exact Cause Plane Crash Undetermined; May Never Be Known

DALLAS, April 19.—(AP)—Fliers here today expressed the opinion that the exact cause of the air tragedy in which two men and two women, out for a night pleasure ride in an airplane, crashed to a flaming death in a storm, might never be determined.

Dallas fliers and United States department of commerce inspectors visited the scene of the crash, near Lewisville in Denton county, and a report will be made to Washington on the accident. Pilots were of the belief that "any one of a number of things might have caused the crash in a storm like that."

There was a violent electrical storm in progress, accompanied by wind and driving rain, when the plane dove into a muddy field and burst into flames, trapping its four occupants in the cabin Wednesday night.

Victims of the disaster were the pilot, Harry Fowler, 40, employe of an oil company; his fiance, Miss Lillian Rose, 17; Jack Poole, 40, Dallas printing establishment owner; and his companion, Mrs. Jewel Morgan, beauty parlor operator. All lived in Dallas.

ANOTHER ROOSEVELT LAUNCHES LIBERAL REPUBLICAN DRIVE

NEW YORK, April 18.—(AP)—A campaign to rebuild the Republican party along liberal lines was launched today after an attack on the policies of President Roosevelt by his cousin, Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

"The so-called new deal is not liberal and is not new," said Colonel Roosevelt. . . . It is reactionary and un-American."

A leader of the younger and politically more active element of Republicanism, Colonel Roosevelt issued his denunciation last night at his installation as the new president of the National Republican club.

With him were installed other young Republican leaders—among them F. Trubee Davison, former assistant secretary of war, as second vice president.

Backed by the older element of the club, the new leadership plotted a course of conferences and membership drives to make the club a center of Republicanism and a major factor in national politics.

"Together," said Colonel Roosevelt, "we will strive to make the National Republican club an active factor in these critical days when the future of the nation is being determined."

Messages of congratulations or support came from United States Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregand David A. Reed of Pennsylgon, F. C. Walcott of Connecticut vania; Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York, Gov. James Rolph of California, Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, and William Allen White, editor, of Emporia, Kas.

The keynote of the campaign was sounded by Colonel Roosevelt, who said "if the so-called new deal prevails, the hard-bought gains for liberalism and individual liberty are lost."

PROBLEM OF POSSESSIONS WAS ACUTE IN TIME OF JESUS*

Still The World's Outstanding Issue — One Rich Young Man Who Faced It, And Failed —Which Way Is Civilization Going?

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS

After spending six months in Russia during the revolution, and the rise and triumph of the bolsheviks, I went on the lecture platform with the message, "The Big Thing That Has Happened in the World." I had seen the most powerful and arrogant aristocracy in history completely overthrown, although the dazed aristocrats themselves were still crying ::Impossible!" I did not then nor do I now, approve of bolshevism. My theme was that a new world order had begun, wherein the masses could take control of society whenever they pleased.

But nobody paid any particular attention to that lecture. The prevalent belief was that nothing could change the old order of things, wherein wealth and privilege dominated civilization. In those lush postwar days, with everybody making money rapidly, I was a voice crying in a wilderness of easy dollars. My citations of the New Testament teachings were as futile as my appeal to the facts of Europe.

Now everybody knows what is the big thing that has happened in the world. The mood of Russia has swept over Europe and Asia, and is newly powerful in America. We are readier today to sit at the feet of Jesus and hear what He has to say about wealth. We all want to know if there is not some Christian alternative to Communism or Fascism (and Fascism is but an inverted form of Communism.) Is not constitutional democracy still practicable, if animated by the Christian spirit?

Pity The Poor Rich.

With a penetration which we are only nowadays beginning fully to understand, Jesus saw the wickedness. He understood that mere things are no satisfactory reward of life. To Him it was clear that possessions usually possess their possessor. So difficult is it for a man to escape their thralldom, and their temptations, that He made the assertion that only a miracle of God, to Whom all things are possible would enable a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven. Money is a heavy handicap in the race for eternal life.

Mind you, Jesus was no demagogue, or class-conscious proletarian. He was criticised by His contemporaries for consorting with all sorts of folks, the wealthy as well as the outcast. He was too wise to assign all the demerit to one group and all the merit to another. Of the rich young man in our Lesson Story it is recorded that Jesus, seeing him loved him. One of His own twelve disciples, Matthew, the author of the book we are studying, was apparently a man of property.

Nevertheless, the Master saw that "It is easier for a camel (the Aramic version has "rope") to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God." For the rich man has beccme habituated to dependence upon the power of money; whereas only spiritual qualities inherit heaven. Mere possessions are not supreme experiences. Pity the poor rich man whose only resource is riches.

After the Russian debacle, myriads of Russian aristocrats had to resort to the most menial task to escape starvation; and most of them were unfitted for even the simplest work. A British representative in Sofia said to me, "My errand boy used to be governor of a province in Siberia. If he was no better as a governor than he is as an errand boy I pity the people." Not wealth, but personal qualities of mind, and will and spirit are the ultimate dependence of a life.

One Young Man's Tragedy.

Famous in art and literature is this young man who came running to Jesus for counsel. He had great wealth, and social position, and religious standing as a synagogue rules. Also he had gleams of that "divine discontent" which made him seek life's higher rewards. He was a moral, commandment-keeping Jew; but he discerned the serious handicap of riches. The real touchstone of his character was his money.

Not merely because He wanted the young man's money for the poor, but more because He wanted the young man himself, Jesus bade him sell all he had and give it to the needy, in exchange for which he would have treasure in heaven. That is to say, "Remove the barrier that stands between you and the fulfilment of your noblest desire. You can't have perfection so long as you desire anything else more than perfection. In the kingdom of heaven there is no room for divided allegiance. God will not be king at all unless He can be king over all."

"But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful; for he was one that had great possessions." Many have wondered about his future. The glamour of his gold had been removed by Jesus. His discontent with his possessions must have increased. He was an early instance of our problem man, the one who has seen the higher life and has not the courage to pursue it.

A Sensational Discourse.

Even the disciples were set by the ears at the words of Jesus. "They were astonished exceedingly," Matthew reports. Here was something new and sensational and revolutionary. If the moral rich were not to be saved who then could be? The Teacher's ominous reply was "With God all things are possible." Not the silent sinner only, but also the wealthy aristocrat must pin his hope of heaven solely upon the unmerited mercy of God.

Wealth is no criterion of worth. The public has of late been scanning the lists of high-salaried business executives and bankers, and the general conclusion is that they are grossly overpaid. Many a disdainful snort has come from acquaintances, who know the personal calibre of the recipients of these large sums. And commonly, these men have been contrasted with others who are great servants of their generation, but hideously underpaid. A comparison between corporation men and their salaries and, say, editors, teachers and preachers makes clear that the money test is no true test. In the large, this is true of society as a whole. We must find a better norm of value than wealth. The world must go off this ancient gold standard.

Communism Or The Kingdom?

Looking at this lesson, as we must, in its larger relationships, what do we find that it suggests concerning society as a whole? First, the dethronement of the money motive as master. Experience has proved that the welfare of the whole mass of society has not been best served by the financial rewards of a few. The distribution of compensation is disproportionate to a ghastly degree. The well-being of the whole social body has not been fairly served. A few exceedingly rich—and they seldom are the most meritorious personally—and multitudes of really deserving persons in misery, is not a state of things to be accepted permanently.

The answer? Certainly not Communism, Jesus gives it—the kingdom. When the great goal of life is the establishment among men of the kingdom of God, with the rich rewards shared by all, spiritual values will take first place. The will of God and the welfare of man will then be paramount; and the only rich will be those who are "rich toward God."

TROTZKY DODGES OFFICIAL VISITORS IN FRENCH REFUGE

FRIENDS TO PROTEST EXPULSION ORDER; SEEKS ANOTHER HOME

PARIS, April 19.—(AP)—Leon Trotzky, the man no country seems to want, was served today with a formal notice that he was being expelled from France for his revolutionary activities.

A village constable was refused entrance to the Bolshevik's cottage near Barbizon, 35 miles from Paris, but two gendarmes entered the exile's refuge and handed him the document which tells him to get out.

Trotzky's departure for Spain appeared imminent with the appointment of Inspector Vilchien to accompany him to the frontier.

In order to avoid a demonstration, the exact time of the exile's departure was kept secret, but it probably will be tonight or early tomorrow morning.

PARIS, April 19.—(AP)—Leon Trotzky, a man no country seems to want, barred himself against official visitors today.

A constable bearing a mysterious document from the Barbizon city hall was refused entrance to the Russian exile's cottage near there, about 35 miles from Paris.

Later, while Trotzky's agents continued their effort to find some place for him to go now that he has been ordered out of France, a postman also was refused admittance.

Unconfirmed reports persisted that Trotzky is seeking refuge in Spain or Belgium. His secretary said, however, that they were "having difficulty in obtaining passport visas." The secretary did not disclose what countries were being dealt with.

Parisian friends of Trotzky, who from his Barbizon villa has been directing plans for a so-called "Fourth International," made plans for a demonstration of protest against the French expulsion order.

Silliman Evans Quit Place With Administration

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation of Silliman Evans of Texas as fourth assistant postmaster general.

"I want to take occasion, however, to thank you for your loyal and efficient services and to congratulate you on a job well done.

"With all best wishes for the future.

"Sincerely yours, (signed)
FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT."

In his letter of resignation Evans said he had consulted with Postmaster General Farley and Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the reconstruction corporation, before definitely accepting the position.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent to the senate today the nominations of more than 500 postmasters, including Kansas City, Missouri, Alexander W. Graham.

PROJECTED TRINITY SANDS TEST POWELL MAY BE ABANDONED

OPERATORS BACKING IDEA HAVING TROUBLE BLOCKING SUFFICIENT ACREAGE

Possible abandonment of a projected Trinity sand test in the western portion of the old Powell oil field was reported from reliable sources Thursday, as operators securing the acreage continued to have difficuty in completing the desired block. A definite decision on the matter is anticipated early next week.

Drilling of a Trinity sand test near Corsicana would effectively put Corsicana back in the oil news spotlight, and would mean the expenditure of more than $150,000 for equipment and labor alone, besides the lease fees, local oil men reported. The high cost of the initial well would result from the necessity of setting extensive strings of casing, while coring ahead in comparatively unknown formations below the Woodbine horizons. It is believed that the new sands would be struck about the 6,000 foot level near Corsicana.

For several years, operators have been looking toward the deeper sand as the next potential producing area around Corsicana, and have pointed out that it would mean a prolonged period of development, since the extreme depth of the holes would preclude any possibility of excessive speed, while the cost would hamper any wild drilling campaign.

Such a test has been discussed many times in the past several years but some untoward event has always prevented actual work being done toward such a drilling campaign until the early part of this year when it was learned that a block of some 3,000 or more acres was being secured with the possibility of the testing of the Trinity horizon. One test was attempted to this area near Rice several years ago with no production found, and another was drilled near Mexia but was junked after a bad fishing job. Gas was encountered in the Mexia test.

Tammany Chief Refuses to Quit As Protests Grow

NEW YORK, April 19.—(AP)—The circle of hostile Tammany Braves closed in on John F. Curry today, with a majority of the chief council calling for his scalp.

A meeting of the executive committee was called for 5 p. m. tomorrow to act—if Curry has not abdicated—on a motion to depose him as Tammany chieftain.

But Silent John, who has met with a curt refusal all demands that he resign, insisted he would not quit, asserting: "I said that last week and the week before, and I say it again."

BAKERY OBSERVED FIRST ANNIVERSARY BY STAGING PARADE

The Blue Ribbon Bakery celebrated its first birthday in Corsicana with a parade, led by Manager Hugh Pollard and the American Legion drum and bugle corps, in the business district late Wednesday afternoon. The musical unit was followed by the bakery's fleet of four new trucks their other trucks and several other automobiles with banners.

The Blue Ribbon Bakery has had a phenomenal growth since its inception a year ago, and in addition to serving a large clientele of Corsicana patrons with a wide variety of bakery products, it is operating a fleet of trucks in a radius of 100 miles north, east and south of Corsicana, and covers Corsicana's trade territory thoroughly. It also serves the new Cayuga oil field.

It is a home owned and home operated institution and distributes a large pay-roll solely in Corsicana. Manager Pollrad is an experienced bakeryman, and the success of the new bakery is due for a great part to his thorough and efficient administration.
